According to data from the Consolidated Multiple Listing Service for the most recent 12 month period, the average length of time for a home to go under contract from the point it is listed was 93 days. But 40% do not sell at all during the initial listing agreement! Therefore you must have a plan "for the first 100 days" and not just the first couple of weeks. Homes priced within the indicated market value sell the fastest so it is important to check and update sales and new listing data at least every 30 days

Pricing Strategy

In addition to a Marketing Strategy, every home must have a pricing strategy. If, after 90 days the Marketing Strategy has not produced a buyer, then a Pricing Strategy must be adopted to insure the home is priced in the lower 1/3 of competing listings in order to attract attention.

Once that is complete we will repeat the entire 90- day cycle as if it were a new listing on the market
